2016 WASHINGTON CAPITALS DEVELOPMENT CAMP

Kettler Capitals Iceplex • Arlington, Virginia
June 28 - July 2, 2016

Capitals Development Camp Notes

The Washington Capitals will host their 2016 Prospect Development Camp from June 28 - July 2, 2016 at Kettler Capitals Iceplex. All on-ice sessions are free and open to the public.

Capitals development camp is an annual week-long summer session with on- and off-ice workouts designed to help Capitals prospects improve their games and allow the Capitals to evaluate their progress. This is the 10th straight year that the camp is being held at Kettler Capitals Iceplex. Past development camps have been held in Odenton, Md., and Hershey, Pa.

Attendees include Capitals prospects who are under contract and recent Capitals draft picks who have not been signed yet. In addition, several undrafted and free agent amateur players will be in attendance.

The Capitals will host Caps Fan Fest on Wednesday, June 29, featuring the Caps Alumni Exhibition at 7:30 p.m. at Kettler Capitals Iceplex. In addition to the Caps Alumni Exhibition, this year's Fan Fest will feature the team's annual equipment sale, Q&A sessions and photo opportunities with members of the Capitals coaching staff and Capitals prospects, and kid zone activities from 3-7 p.m.

Capitals development camp will conclude on Saturday with an intrasquad scrimmage at 10 a.m. The game will be streamed live on MonumentalSportsNetwork.com.

Media Information

Players will be made available to the media following the final on-ice session each day (approximate times listed to the right). Please make player requests to a member of the Capitals' media relations staff:

2016 Development Camp Guide

Camp Storylines

Roll Call – All seven draft picks from the Capitals 2016 Draft will attend this year’s development camp. The Capitals selected defenseman Lucas Johansen with the 28th overall selection in the first round of the 2016 NHL Draft, held at First Niagara Center in Buffalo, N.Y. Washington selected center Garrett Pilon (87th overall), left wing Damien Riat (117th overall), left wing Beck Malenstyn (145th overall), left wing Axel Jonsson-Fjallby (147th overall), defenseman Chase Priskie (177th overall) and defenseman Dmitriy Zaitsev (207th overall) on the second day of the 2016 NHL Draft.

Quick Studies – Chandler Stephenson attended last summer’s development camp and played in nine games for the Capitals in 2015-16. Nine players who attended the 2015 development camp (Madison Bowey, Christian Djoos, Nathan Walker, Jakub Vrana, Travis Boyd, Riley Barber, Liam O’Brien, Stephenson, Vitek Vanecek) played for Washington’s AHL affiliate, the Hershey Bears, during the 2015-16 regular season and were joined by two players (Connor Hobbs, Colby Williams) who attended last season’s development camp for their playoff run. Two players (Caleb Herbert, Vanecek) played for Washington’s ECHL affiliate, the South Carolina Stingrays, in 2015-16.

Veteran Presence – Travis Boyd will be participating in his fifth development camp this year. Boyd registered 53 points (21g, 32a) in 76 games with Hershey (AHL) in 2015-16 in his first professional season. Boyd finished the season ranked second on the team in assists and third in goals and points. In addition, he scored the game-winning goal in overtime in Game 7 of the second round of the 2016 Calder Cup playoffs. Madison Bowey and Riley Barber are returning for their fourth consecutive development camp. Bowey registered 29 points (4g, 25a) in 70 games as a rookie with the Bears last season and led the team in plus/minus (+22). Barber recorded 55 points (26g, 29a) in 74 games and ranked second on the team in goals and points and third in assists as a rookie.

Immediate Impact – All four draft picks from the Capitals 2015 Draft will attend this year’s development camp. Ilya Samsonov, the Capitals first-round pick in 2015, played in 19 games as a rookie with Magnitogorsk Metallurg (KHL) in 2015-16 and posted a 6-4-3 record with two shutouts, a 2.04 goals-against average and a .925 save percentage. Samsonov ranked third in goals-against average and save percentage last season among KHL goaltenders under the age of 24 and was the only goaltender in the league under the age of 22 to play in more than 10 games. Jonas Siegenthaler, Washington’s second round selection in 2015, earned eight points (3g, 5a) in 40 games as a rookie with the Zurich Lions of the Swiss National League A. Siegenthaler finished the season ranked tied for fourth on the team in plus/minus (+16). Connor Hobbs, the Capitals fifth-round pick last season, registered 41 points (19g, 22a) in 58 games with the Regina Pats (WHL) in 2015-16 and finished the season ranked fifth among WHL defensemen in power-play goals (10) and tied for fifth in goals and penalty minutes (106).

Kelowna Connection – Capitals prospects Madison Bowey and Lucas Johansen were teammates with the Kelowna Rockets (WHL) in 2014-15 and helped the Rockets win the WHL championship. Other defensemen to play for Kelowna include Shea Weber (Nashville), Duncan Keith (Chicago), Tyson Barrie (Colorado), Tyler Myers (Winnipeg) and Luke Schenn (Los Angeles).

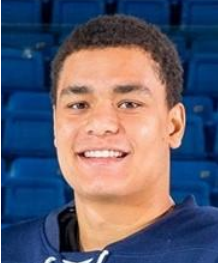

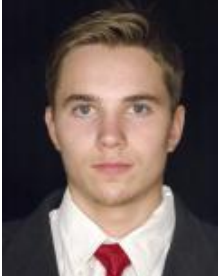

Homegrown – Fourteen players (Karl Alzner, Nicklas Backstrom, Andre Burakovsky, John Carlson, Connor Carrick, Stanislav Galiev, Philipp Grubauer, Braden Holtby, Marcus Johansson, Evgeny Kuznetsov, Dmitry Orlov, Alex Ovechkin, Chandler Stephenson and Tom Wilson) who played for the Capitals in 2015-16 were originally drafted by Washington. Capitals draftees accounted for 60.9% of the team’s goals last season and 63.2% of the team’s assists. In addition, goaltenders drafted by Washington have accounted for 223 of the team’s 256 wins (87.1%) during the last six seasons.

High Class – The Capitals 2012 NHL Draft class has combined to play in 475 NHL games, ranking first in the NHL. In addition, Washington’s 2005 Draft class ranks first in games played (2,192) and its 2009 Draft class ranks fifth in games played (948).

Hey, Brother – Capitals prospect Lucas Johansen is the younger brother of Nashville Predators center Ryan Johansen.

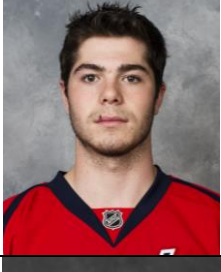

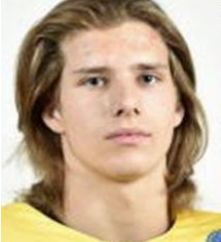

Age Differential – Garrett Pilon (born April 13, 1998), drafted by Washington in the third round, 87th overall, in the 2016 NHL Draft, is the youngest player attending this year’s development camp. Free agent invite John Parker (born January 11, 1992) is the oldest.
